

DATA PRIVACY NOTICE

Vogue Beauty is committed to maintaining the trust and confidence of our customers whether you are visiting our website or our salon. It is important to us that you know that Vogue Beauty does not sell, rent or trade your details with other companies and businesses for marketing purposes.

In order to ensure your treatments are both suitable and beneficial for you it is necessary to obtain details regarding your health (including any current medications) and any preferences you may have. In addition your current address, email and mobile number are required for our own records.

Your client details are retained on our Premier spa software (which is fully GDPR compliant) and is held at the salon only. The software is password controlled and can only be accessed by the current therapists and owner of Vogue Beauty. In the majority of cases you will only be contacted by Vogue Beauty with regards to an appointment, treatment booked or in response to a query you have contacted us about. We do have regular offers which are marketed in the salon and via our social media pages and our web site. We do not currently send out marketing SMS or emails.
